Note

Nakatani utilized his long-range boxing, powerful left crosses and a sparse but highly effective body attack to successfully defend his WBO super flyweight championship for the first time. Nakatani scored two knockdowns in round five (left to the body, volley) and another in round nine (left cross to the body in the midst of a flurry), and while Cortes had good moments in rounds six (long right to the tip of the jaw), 10, 11 and 12, Nakatani was never in danger of losing control. Nakatani averaged 75.2 punches per round to Cortes' 43.7, out-landed him 166-89 overall, 64-7 jabs and 102-82 power, was more accurate across the board (18%-17% overall, 11%-3% jabs, 34%-27% power) and led 11-1 in the CompuBox round-by-round breakdown of total connects. Nakatani's command of range was reflected in the fact that jabs made up 67% of his total output (power shots comprised 57% of Cortes' output). Scoring: 119-106 (2x), 118-107 N.
