Inside The Numbers

In their first meeting, Han held a clear edge in both accuracy and power, connecting on 26% of her punches to Holm's 12% and finishing with a 72 to 26 advantage in power punches landed.

The rematch told a different story. Holm made the necessary adjustments, connecting on 24% of her punches while holding Han to 20%, and finished with a 76 to 42 edge in power punches landed. Holm out-landed Han in eight of the ten rounds and reached double digits in seven of them - Han managed it just once. Yet the fight was competitive enough that six rounds were decided by four punches or fewer. One judge scored the fight a 95-95 draw, while the other two scored it 96-94 for Han.
